

GETTING THE RIGHT SIZE BELT WHEN YOU CAN'T TRY IT ON

USING A BELT THAT FITS TO OBTAIN THE SIZE YOU WANT

- If you have a belt that fits the way you like, use it to determine the size that you need
Lay the belt flat and measure the distance in inches from the hole that you are using to where the belt folds around the buckle

- This number is your correct belt size. If the measurement number is an odd size, order the next even size.
(if your belt measures a 31 order a 32)

IF YOU DON'T HAVE A BELT THAT FITS

1. Measure your waist. This is most accurate by actually running the tape measure through your belt loops. A soft tape measure works best but any tape measure will work.
2. Make sure to measure at the waist level you intend to wear the belt.
3. This number is your correct belt size. If the measurement is an odd size, order the next even size.
(if you measure a 31, order a size 32 belt).
